

431 EDUCATION SUPPORT BURSARY

Belief

The MESC will cultivate talented individuals who would benefit from further educational attainment to enhance their performance. In alignment with MESC core values of Íyiniw Mâmitonehíkan, Nehiyawewin, Nehiyaw Pimâtisôwin and Wahkohtowin, the MESC will focus on the development of qualified Maskwacîs atoskewak.

Educational support provides learning opportunities, agreed upon between the employee and the employer, which will benefit the MESC and further its strategic objectives. Education support provides the opportunity for employees to enhance their knowledge, skills and abilities in areas identified by the MESC as critical existing or future needs.

The MESC will abide by a number of key principles when determining whether to provide educational support. These principles include:

1) Priority Positions

The educational support should relate directly to the MESC's vision and mission must have strong potential to benefit the organization and build capacity within the MESC identified priority areas. The Executive will determine priority positions based on the MESC's needs.

2) Determination of Appropriate Programs

The program of study has to be recognized and offered by an accredited institution.

3) Disclose other Financial Supports

Employees who are eligible to receive financial support from their First Nations or other Indigenous community for their educational programs are required to do so before seeking financial support from the MESC. Employees will be required to provide proof of the level of support (or lack of support) available from their communities or other sources. The costs of educational support are limited to annual budget allocation and may vary from year to year.

Procedures

1. Employees must have a minimum of five years' service before applying for an education support bursary.
